INTERCOLLEGIATE SPORTS.

THE ANNUAL ATHLETIC GAMES AT THE BERKELEY OVAL.

Leading Entries for the Various Events To-day and To-morrow—The Chances of the Leading Colleges for the Championship Cup.

The games of the Intercollegiate Athletic association at the Berkeley Oval to-day and to-morrow promise to be extremely interesting, and the entry list shows that they will undoubtedly afford a number of close and exciting contests. The entries number over 150 and most of the men are entered in more than one event. Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Pennsylvania lead in the number of entries. The trial heats will be run off to-day and the semi-finals and finals to-morrow.

In the hundred-yard dash the winner will probably be either Ramsdell (Pennsylvania), Crum (Gow), Derr (Princeton), Patterson (Williams), or Richards (Yale). The western man is said to be very fast, but so far as is known the chances favor Richards and Ramsdell in the order named.

In the 220 about the same men are entered and the race is likely to be very close. Derr should be found well up in the finals.

The quarter-mile run list contains no really first-class men. Bingham and Marshall of Harvard will probably divide the honors, and Sterritt (Pennsylvania) may get third place, though Girard (Yale) may push him hard.

The half-mile should be a fine contest. Kilpatrick (Union), Orton (Pennsylvania), Hollister (Harvard), and Jarvis (Pennsylvania) are the best men in, and as Jarvis will doubtless be saved for the mile the remaining men named are likely to finish in the above order.

The mile will be a pretty race between Jarvis, Morgan (Yale) and Orton (Pennsylvania). They should finish in this order, but if Orton does not run in the half-mile he will be dangerous in the mile.

The high-hurdle race will probably go to Chase (Dartmouth), who holds the world's record in this event. If he is out of form all three places will probably go to Yale with Cady, Perkins and Hatch. This was the order in which the Yale men ran in the recent games with Harvard, the Harvard hurdlers being beaten off. All three are running close together and have done better than sixteen seconds in practice.

Chase will probably have to content himself with third place in the low-hurdle race, as Bremer (Harvard) and Cady (Yale) are likely to defeat him at the distance.

The mile walk will probably be taken by Thrall (Yale), with Houghton (Amherst) second and Drew or Phillips (Harvard) third.

Paine (Harvard) should take the high jump, with Winsor (Pennsylvania) and Sheldon (Yale) following.

The last named man seems sure to win the broad jump, as he is a consistent performer and has done twenty-three feet in practice. Chase (Dartmouth) and Ramsdell (Pennsylvania) will probably get the places.

The pole vault will probably go to Hoyt (Harvard), Buckholtz (Pennsylvania) second and Thomas (Yale) third.

The shot and hammer events are likely to add fourteen points to Yale's score, as Hickok will almost certainly take both firsts, and Brown and Gross will take the seconds. Knappe (Pennsylvania) may get one third and Patterson (Cornell) the other, although Erdgren (California) may be close up.

Goodman (Princeton) seems sure to win the bicycle race. Hill (Yale) will likely be second, though Coates and Osgood (Pennsylvania) are both dangerous.

The abilities of the California men are practically unknown here, for their only games on this coast this season have been with Princeton, whose men are very weak. California won, but in many cases her men were not pushed. They appear to be fair athletes, but by no means first-class. Their work in the coming games, however, will be watched with interest.
